The figure of 4,187 in column 4 refers to the children born in the Station. In addition to this we have a number of outborn children who belong either to the Station mothers confined outside our limits or to new comers to the Station who have to be vaccinated. These are detected by house to house visits. A special register is maintained by the Vaccinators for such cases, as they are not on our birth registers. This is the reason why the figure in column 5 is larger than in 4.

Particulars regarding the section relating to 'Revenue and Finance' in the Report on the Administration of the C & M Station of Bangalore are supplied by the Accountant General, Madras. The section for 1938-39 was received as usual in February 1940 (vide S.N. 16 of D.F. ~~429-38~~ 494-39), and hence the delay in the publication of the Report, which ~~cannot~~ could not be avoided. It may be mentioned in this connection that it has become usual for the Rate-payers' Association (a non official body) to send such complaints to this office. It is therefore for consideration whether we should explain at all to them the cause of delay in the present case. We may perhaps simply acknowledge the receipt of the P.U.C. ~~An alternative~~ as in draft ~~is also submitted.~~ below.

Sd/ 10/11/41

The report in question is not like the report of one department. It is a Compilation of the details of all the Depts in the S[illegible]

There seems to be no need to explain to the S.D.R.A. the reasons for the delay in issuing these reports. A simple acknowledgement as in Draft E below would be sufficient. This draft is for approval.

Prima facie the complaint is reasonable. I do not see why we should not give a civil answer. We may see this & say that the report is published as soon after Feb. as possible

Four types of food stuffs, namely, milk, butter, ghee and tea, for which there was definite legislation were analysed during the year. Milks and ghees were the most extensively adulterated foods in the Station and since the introduction of the law there has been improvement in the quality of both. Milk adulteration which was as high as 96 per cent at the start was gradually come down to 70 and stood at this level for three months and in the case of ghee it has come down from 100 per cent to 60 per cent.

The Food Inspector carried on his regular work of securing samples of food stuffs either from the local dealers or street hawkers from the various localities of the Station. A number of cases were prosecuted and a sum of Rs. 1,461/- was realised as fines during the period ending March 1939.

After the seizure of 25 tins of adulterated ghee from one of the manufacturers and 2 tins from another Stores, these manufacturers as well as others got alarmed and discontinued their business within the Station limits and vacated their premises.

(11) Ayurvedic and Unani Dispensaries.- Attendance at these two dispensaries remained the same as previous year. During the year some of the compound medicines were prepared locally.

3. Administration Report of the C & M Station for 1938-39 -

The receipt of the report had been acknowledged with thanks. The comments of the Daily Post thereon were read. The report would be circulated to those who had expressed a desire to see it. The Committee, however, remarked that the report would not be of much interest to members, having, as usual, been issued so late in the day. The Central Government, as a rule issued their reports of the various Departments within about 6 months of the period covered by the report.

CUTTING FROM 'THE DAILY POST' DATED 13-12-1940

Administration Of C & M Stn For 1938-39

The Report on the Administration of the C & M Station for the year 1938-39, has just been issued and contains as usual information of much interest regarding the administration of the Station during the year under review. The Report deals with the subject under various heads, some only of which call for notice here. Under the head of Revenue and Finance, one finds that receipts and expenditure for the Assigned Tract for the year was Rs 14.27 lakhs and Rs 13'66 lakhs respectively, leaving a small credit surplus.

Excise, it will be found, provides the major portion of the revenues of the Station. There was, however, an appreciable decrease in receipts under this head, the cause assigned being mostly of a temporary character.

The report, under the heads of Civil and Criminal Justice gives a great deal of information regarding the number, nature and classification of suits and cases disposed of during the year, which do not call for any special comment. But, under the head Protection, one finds much that is likely to be of general interest. Crime, generally, is stated to be a trifle higher than in 1937 but lower than the year before; but detection was above the average. Bicycle thefts, it is regrettable to find, are reported to have been on the increase during the year; but it is stated that special efforts are being made to put down this class of offence. Another regrettable item of information is the increase in juvenile crime, and what is called " the exceptional criminal activity of young, homeless boys ",—a state of affairs which obviously calls for some special measures, not merely protective and punitive but by way of being reclamation, and remedial.

It is gratifying to find that motor accidents were distinctly on the decrease, being 127 as against 209 the previous year. The vital statistics for the year indicate that while the general birth rate was lower, the death rate was also higher, which is rather an alarming prospect for the statistician ; but these, perhaps, are not aspects amenable to administrative measures, especially the first named. While the general health of the Station continued fairly satisfactory, enteric fever and bowel complaints claim the largest place in the health statistics, which would seem to indicate the need for further attention to matters sanitary. Infant mortality is stated to be the second lowest since 1901, and infectious diseases also are not seriously in evidence.

The year under review may, on the whole, be claimed as a successful year of administration.
